Mysterious Murder in Montreal —Depravity in Caledonia— Other News.

Toronto, Ont., June 15.—A shocking case of human depravity has just come to light in Caledonia township. A girl, aged 15, has given birth to a child of which her brother, aged 17, is the father. The boy has gone to the States. The child is dead.

London, June 15.—The Presbyterian general assembly discussed the proposed reductions in the salaries of student missionaries, but left the matter undecided.

Montreal, June 15.—There is tremendous excitement in St. Henri caused by the mysterious death of Madame Napoleon de Mers, who was found by Mrs. Mantal, a washerwoman, about 3 o'clock on Thursday afternoon lying on the floor of a bedroom in her house, 3426 Notre Dame street, with two gashes in her throat, her right shoulder dislocated, her arm injured and her chin cut. There was no trace of any theft in the house and there was nothing out of place, and the fact that no weapon with which the deed could have been committed was found, leads to the belief that the woman was brutally murdered, and suspicion points to a tramp or peddler who has been seen in the neighborhood lately. The last person known to have seen the dead woman alive was her husband, who left the house at 6:30 a.m. to go to his work at J. Latimer's carriage factory on College street. His wife was then in the best of health and was nursing her five months old baby. Detectives are working on the case.

Winnipeg, Man., June 15.—The Northern Elevator Co. will proceed immediately with the erection of their new elevator in this city with a capacity of 120,000 bushels, besides building several smaller ones and enlarging others throughout the province. As a result of these extensions the company have a total storage capacity of a million and a quarter bushels.

Southampton, June 15.—The American delegation to the meeting of the World's Women's Christian Temperance Union, to the number of 100 persons, who arrived here last night on board the American line steamship Berlin, were met on their arrival by a committee from the W. C. T. U.

London, June 15.—The American delegates to the convention of the World's Women's Christian Temperance Union were met by Lady Henry Somerset, president of the W. C. T. U., Miss Frances Willard, president of the World's Christian Temperance Union, and other representatives of the union upon arriving at Waterloo station.

AMERICAN NEWS.

The Associated Press Capturing the Business in the United States.

Washington, June 15.—The Macon, Ga., Telegraph, and the Columbus, Ga., Enquirer-Sun have signed 10 year contracts with the Associated Press for its full leased wire report, abandoning the Southern Associated Press. The Telegraph and Enquirer-Sun are among the oldest, most conservative and most influential papers in the South and their defection follows closely upon those of the Knoxville Tribune and the Raleigh News and Observer.

New York, June 15.—The weekly bank statement shows the following changes: Reserve decreased $1,709,000; loans increased $4,487,900; specie decreased $4,514,500; legal tenders increased $3,510,200; deposits increased $2,819,200; circulation increased $13,000,000. The banks now hold $37,958,900 in excess of the required 25 per cent rule.

OTTAWA NEWS.

Senator McInnes Will Move the Dismissal of Fitzsimmons.

Ottawa, June 15.—At a cabinet meeting this afternoon an order-in-council was passed allowing the law to take its course on the Hendershott and Welter murder cases. They will consequently be hanged at St. Thomas on the 18th June. The order has been sent to Quebec for the signature of Lord Aberdeen.

The impression is strong that the government will appoint a commission to investigate the Manitoba schools.

Hon. T. R. McInnes will move a resolution that it is necessary in the interest of the public service to dismiss Deputy Warden Fitzsimmons.

The government has consented that the Warimoo shall call at Auckland on her present trip for Hon. Mr. Ward's convenience.

PEACE IN FORMOSA.

Peace Completely Established at Taiphu Fu and Tamsui.

Washington, June 15.—The Japanese legation to-day received an official dispatch from the foreign office summarizing the status of affairs on the island of Formosa as follows: "At Taiphu Fu and Tamsui, large cities in the north, all disorder is at an end and peace is established. The Japanese have put into operation a civil system of administration. The German marines were landed at the cities mentioned, but have now been withdrawn. Foreign settlers are now under the entire protection of the Japanese army and civil authorities." The favorable tone of the cablegram is quite satisfactory to the officials here.

AGAIN ON LAKE ERIE.

A Canadian Revenue Cutter Captures a Yankee Steamer.

Buffalo, N. Y., June 15.—Armed with repeating rifles, Capt. Dunn and eight marines of the Canadian revenue service aboard the the yacht Nautilus, created considerable excitement on the Niagara river in the usually peaceful vicinity of the foot of First street yesterday afternoon. The mission of the Canadian officers was to stop the Buffalo Dredging Company from dumping on their side of the river. About 4 o'clock the tug H J Warren came steaming down the river towing two mud scows. It was captained by Thomas Green, with two brothers named Whalen as engineer and fireman. A man was on each scow. Just as the Warren passed the required distance beyond the water works crib, the scows dumped. The Nautilus was moored at Fort Erie. In an instant she slipped her moorings and sped after the American tug. When she came alongside the tug, Capt Dunn called for the tug to stop her engines and the marines levelled their rifles at the crew. The tug obeyed the command and in an instant Capt. Dunn and his men boarded her. She was taken to Sherman docks on the Canadian side and tied up over night. Capt. Green and the two Whalens were hustled off to Fort Erie and placed in jail. The two men on the scows escaped.

Protection Causes an Enormous Adverse Balance of Trade in France.

An Explosion at the Red-Car Iron Works, Yorkshire, Kills Nine Men.

London, June 15.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Times telegraphs to that paper that it is almost certain that Russia will take no action to compel reforms by Turkey in Armenia.

The Karlsruhe Zeitung says that the Grand Duchy of Baden also does not desire an international bimetallic conference.

The director of customs at Paris reports that during the first five months of the present year French imports decreased 240,000,000 francs as compared with the corresponding period of 1894. On the other hand exports increased 100,000,000 francs during the first five months of 1895.

Advices from Madrid say the royal assent was given to-day to a bill adopted by the senate on Wednesday last authorizing the government to raise in case of need a loan of six hundred million pesets on account of Cuba. It is believed vessels will be purchased abroad and sent to Cuba in order to more thoroughly patrol the coast of the island.

It is reported at Paris that some difficulty has arisen between France and the republic of San Domingo in consequence of the coinage and circulation by the latter government of nickel money bearing an effigy of the French republic.

News of a disquieting nature has been received at Hongkong from the island of Formosa. It is stated the Black Flags are threatening to cause serious trouble and foreigners on the island are in a critical position. In view of this fact the commander of the British cruiser Rainbow has left here for the scene of the trouble. A Japanese cruiser which was approaching Anping was fired upon without effect.

A boiler explosion in the Redcar Iron Works near Guisboro, Yorkshire, to-day, resulted in the death of six persons and in serious injury to eighteen others.

Three of the injured persons died later in the day, making a total of nine killed.

Thirteen out of the fifteen boilers exploded. The masonry was hardly one hundred yards away and a volume of boiling water a yard deep poured over the workmen. The damage done will amount to about $250,000. The latest reports from the scene of the disaster show that nine persons were killed, 20 were seriously injured and, in addition, 400 persons have been thrown out of employment.

The departure of the new American line steamship St. Louis from Southampton on her return trip to New York after her first voyage across the Atlantic was witnessed to-day by a large crowd of people. She took 200 passengers, including Mr. and Mrs. Potter Palmer, of Chicago.

THE CUBAN STRUGGLE.

Gomez at the Head of a Body of Insurgents Threatens a City.

Madrid, June 15.—A law has been gazetted suspending the reduction of the Cuban notes of 1890 in order to defray the expenses of the war.

Havana, June 15.—Maxim Gomez has invaded the province of Puerto Principe at the head of a number of insurgents and has arrived near the city of Puerto Principe, the capital. Several important personages in the neighborhood and the autonomists of Puerto Principe are going to have a conference with Gomez with a view of prevailing upon him to desist from further armed revolution. The people of the province of Puerto Principe are not in favor of revolution.

NANAIMO NEWS.

A Pretty Wedding—Infringement of the Game Act.

Nanaimo, June 15.—St. Paul's church was the scene of a very pretty wedding to-day when Mr. George Wadham Bruce Heatheote, of Nelson, B. C., was united to Mary Beatrice Bate, third daughter of ex-Mayor Bate. The bride has always been exceedingly popular in this city and in consequence great interest was manifested in the ceremony. A reception was held at the bride's home in the afternoon. The list of presents was unusually large. The young couple left on the afternoon train for Victoria.

Messrs. Redpath, W. Powell and W. Patterson were brought before the magistrate yesterday charged with an infringement of the game act. Their plea of ignorance of the law did not save them and they were called upon to pay $25 and costs. The young fellows [illegible]

STATUE TO OLIVER CROMWELL

The Bill Passes the Imperial House by the Narrow Majority of One Vote.

Citoyen Chamberlain Will be Included in the Next Conservative Cabinet.

London, June 14.--The proposal of the government to erect a statue to Oliver Cromwell was adopted to-day in the house of commons by a vote of 152 to 153. The Right Hon. A. J. Balfour, the Conservative leader in the house of commons, the other leaders of the opposition and bulk of Conservatives and all the Irish nationalists' voted against the adoption of the proposition and the passage of the motion was only secured by the support of the Orangemen.

The National Liberal-Unionists and Conservative associations gave a banquet last evening in London to the Duke of Devonshire and the Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain. The Duke of Devonshire in a speech intimated that the next Conservative government would include himself and Mr. Chamberlain. The Daily News, commenting editorially on the above, says that the banquet marks the change of the alliance between the Conservatives and Liberal-Unionists into the fusion and absorption of the Liberal-Unionists into the Conservative party.

The North German Gazette says that it learns that the Brazilian government has virtually acknowledged the claims of the German settlers for compensation for damages done to their property during the late revolution in Brazil and has made offers which present a basis for an early settlement of the question.

Alphonse Allard, who was a delegate from Belgium to the international monetary conference of 1892, in an address to the Conservative association, asserts that the protective policy of Belgium is the result of the currency difficulty which has divided the world into hostile camps and which has developed changes absolutely opposed to the interests of the gold countries and in favor of silver currency. Allard also says that the fall in the prices of commodities is not due to over-production, but to the scarcity of money, caused by the demonetization of silver in 1873. The movement in favor of prohibitive duties on commodities is the natural outcome of the protection of gold. The only real remedy, continued M. Allard, for the industrial and commercial depression was to rehabilitate silver. That the world was realizing this was shown in the widespread bi-metallic movement.

Seventy people gathered to-day in the death chamber of a young man at Bavigno, a seaport town of Austria, on the west coast of Istria, on the Adriatic. The flooring of the chamber collapsed and all fell to the ground floor and thence into a deep cellar, the walls of the house falling on top of the unfortunate victims. All the inhabitants of the town hurried to the spot, the fire brigade was called out and the soldiers in the town also rushed to the scene and united their efforts to remove the debris. This being done revealed the fact that fourteen of the mourners had been killed and thirty injured. The unhappy young woman who had been the fiance of the dead was found in the ruins in a position close to the coffin.

The Berlin Reichsanzeiger to-day publishes the following refutation of the remarks of Prince Bismarck on June 9th to the central committee of the husbandry league about a minister who "stuck to office," an expression which has been taken by several papers as being aimed at Dr. von Boetticher, the imperial secretary of state for the interior: "It is pointed out that so long ago as February, 1890, Dr. von Boetticher expressed to Prince Bismarck a wish to resign, but the latter kept him in office. Moreover, his subsequent requests to be released from holding office were not granted, as witness the Emperor's letter of March 29th, 1892, in which the Emperor alluded to the services of Dr. von Boetticher and said that he could not dispense with the help of so tried a force in the public service, and begged him to continue to devote his services both to the wider and smaller Fatherland.

In the house of commons last evening during the discussion of a credit for building a railway and the protectorate in Uganda, Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain wanted to know the intentions of the government regarding the French expedition on the Nile. Sir William Harcourt severely rebuked Mr. Chamberlain's provocative language toward France, which he said was most dangerous to the world's peace. He denied that the government intended to extend control beyond Uganda.

Mr. Chamberlain repudiated any desire to be provocative, but had simply repeated the statement of Sir Edward Gray, parliamentary secretary of the foreign office, that a certain act on the part of France would be regarded as unfriendly to England, and asked to be assured that steps were not to be taken to lead to this act.

The subject precipitated a long discussion to-night, and the closure was finally applied to end the debate. The credit was then adopted by 249 to 51.

SEALING LEGISLATION.

Motion for the Imperial House Objected to Seizure of Sealers.

London, June 14.—A debate took place in the house of commons this evening on the second reading of the new bill for the regulation of sealing in Behring sea. Thomas Gibson Bowles, Conservative member of parliament from Lynn Regis, asked whether Canada had consented to the arrangements embodied in the bill. He complained that while America had made restriction for unlawful seizure of sealers, Russia had not moved in the matter. He moved an amendment against withdrawing British protection from British subjects, and subjecting them in times of peace to search and seizure by foreign naval officers. Sir E. Grey, parliamentary secretary to the foreign office, replied that the Russian dispute was still under negotiations. Continuing, he said that the government has done everything to meet Canadian objections consistent with executing the agreement with Russia. He believed that the restriction imposed by the bill was only fair and reasonable. Mr. Bowles' amendment was rejected by a vote of 87 nays to 11 yeas. The second reading of the bill was postponed.

West Superior, Wis., June 15.—A sad drowning accident occurred in St. Louis Bay, near 21st street. Three boys, Harry Eldred, Wm. Cowie and Clay Millard, were sailing when the boat was capsized by a squall and they were drowned. Another lad named Pinkham succeeded in saving himself.

San Francisco, Cala., June 15.—Three suits for damages aggregating $150,000 will be filed against the Pacific Mail Co. to-day as a result of the loss of the steamer Colima. Another will be brought by Mrs. Thomas Gray, whose husband was in charge of the refrigerator room, and the third complaint is by Captain C. C. Sterickmann, whose mother was drowned. The complaints are prepared by Attorney Phillips. Charges are made that the cargo of the steamer was badly stowed and the officers showed neglect in not giving passengers warning of the danger so that they could have taken measures to save their lives. It is charged that life-preservers were not given to passengers and there were not enough life-preservers on board to supply all those who needed them.

E. & N. EXTENSION.

Correspondence Made Public by Mr. Haslam Settles the Question.

The following letters anent the proposed E. & N. extension appeared in the last number of the Wellington Enterprise:

House of Commons, Canada,
Ottawa, May 31st, 1895.

Alex. Sharp, Esq.:

Dear Sir:—I enclose a letter from the Hon. Comptroller of Customs on the collection of duties at Wellington postoffice, and another from the Hon. Minister of Railways and Canals, in reference to the subsidy for the extension from Wellington to Comox. I have had a number of interviews with the hon. minister on the subject, and he is fully aware of the importance of the work and the necessity for having it completed at as early a date as possible, but owing to the general policy of the government during this session to grant no subsidy it cannot recede from the position it has taken.

Owing to the falling revenue due to depression of business and reduction in duties, I think the government is justified in not incurring any new liabilities. I hope at the next session of parliament the government will be in a position to grant the subsidy. I hope they will do it. I am, very truly,

A. HASLAM.

Department of Railways and Canals,
Minister's Office.
Ottawa, May 29th, 1895.

Dear Sir:—I am in receipt of your letter of the 28th inst., with enclosure of a petition from residents and electors of Vancouver Island Electoral District in favor of granting a subsidy of $3,200 per mile towards the extension of the Esquimalt & Nanaimo Railway from Wellington to Comox.

As you are aware, the finance minister has announced to parliament that no railway subsidies will be granted during the present session. I am greatly impressed with the importance of the proposed extension, and when it is again determined to grant railway subsidies, I will recommend to my colleagues the most favorable consideration of the application for a subsidy to the Esquimalt & Nanaimo Railway as set forth in the petition.

In the meantime your letter and the petition will be kept on record in the department. Yours faithfully,

(Signed) JOHN HAGGART,
Minister of Railways.

A. Haslam, Esq., M.P.P.,
House of Commons, Ottawa.

PHARMACEUTICAL SOCIETY.

Annual Meeting Held in Vancouver on Thursday Afternoon.

Messrs. Thos. Shotbolt and John Cochrane returned last evening from Vancouver, having been in attendance at the annual meeting of the B. C. Pharmaceutical Society held on Thursday. The following officers were elected: President, T. M. Henderson, Victoria; vice-president, T. E. Atkins, Vancouver; secretary-treasurer and registrar, Chas. Nelson, Vancouver; council, Messrs. Henderson, Shotbolt, Atkins, Seymour, [illegible], Van Horlen and Muir.

It was decided to join the Canadian association, if such an association is in existence. The next meeting of the council will be held in Victoria and the annual meeting in New Westminster. Reports showed the affairs of the society to be in a flourishing condition. In the evening the visitors were banquetted at the Manor House by the Vancouver members.

PHOTOGRAPHS IN COLORS.

One of the Methods Explained by Its American Inventor.

Professor Frederick E. Ives, of Philadelphia, explained to a large and distinguished gathering of scientists recently at the American Museum of Natural History his discovery in reproducing by photography the natural colors of objects. This has long been the dream of science, says the New York Times.

Professor Ives illustrated his lecture by many beautiful color photographs. He first outlined the latest discoveries in relation to light and light rays in general and then by experiments in separating and combining the elementary and compound colors showed the theory he had followed in reaching his discovery of the secret of color photography.

In plain language, this astonishing result was achieved by photographing the object chosen on the most modern and sensitive plate through three different colored glass slides—red, green and blue-violet. The object was first photographed through one, then through another, and then through the third. Each colored slide took up its own spectrum colors, and when the three plates are over the other, and looking in a stereoscope through the three plates, there was seen a resultant photograph of the object chosen with all the natural colors retained.

Professor Ives next explained how, by mirrors and other devices, he had progressed from this initial stage in the discovery to the making of his photochromoscope camera, which makes at a single exposure on a commercial photographic sensitive plate the three pairs of images for combination into the color photograph. Then he explained his stereophotochromoscope, by which the color photograph is translated to the eye, so that the very object photographed appears to be seen through it.

He caused some of his color photographs to be thrown on a large screen. The natural colors were wonderfully reproduced in all their variety. His typical color-photograph was of a basket of fruit. Another was a vase of flowers, and there were many beautiful color-photographs of scenery in the Alps and in the American Yellowstone Park.

Finally, Professor Ives described the method by which he had succeeded in permanently fixing natural colors in a photograph. This was a mechanical process, and not a direct process of light trans-fixture. In brief, as described, it consisted in developing three negatives of the three main colors, and, then pasting the three together, the result being, however, a photograph of complementary colors, and not the original full natural colors.

The basis of the whole process, Professor Ives pointed out, was the now perfectly determined laboratory measurements of the mixture of spectrum colors. He indicated further that his color photographs would not convey accurate color ideas to the color-blind, for the reason, among others, that the so-called green seen by the normal eye is not the green elementary green, the latter being observable only by the color-blind. At the close of the lecture those in the audience were given an opportunity to see Professor Ives' color photographs through his own special instruments.

TROUT TICKLING.

A Connecticut Expert Who Catches the Shy Fish With His Hands.

Old Capt. Lew Nettleton, who lives not far from the junction of the Race brook with the Wepawaug river, in Connecticut, has been accustomed for years to catch all the trout he can eat with no other implements than his bare hands. Trout are very plenty in the Race, and the shallowness of the stream, combined with its overhanging banks, make it an ideal place for trout tickling. To those who have angled with fly and bait for this cunning fish, talk about catching them with the hand may seem romance. Nevertheless it is an established fact.

Capt. Nettleton fishes on cloudy or overcast days, when his shadow will not fall sharply upon the stream. Nor can he hope to tickle with any success when the stream is high. Low water is in his favor, for then the trout are hiding in pools and small basins under the banks. He does not first spy out his game, but simply tries at random the favorite lairs. Lying flat on the bank a yard or so from the brook, he slowly works his way to the edge. Then he lowers one arm cautiously to the water and begins to grope under the bank among the roots and rocks. Very gently his hand moves, and the very slightest brush from the waving fins or tail of S. fontinalis will tell him the game is near. At the first touch the fish generally moves away a few inches. When the fingers have gently rubbed its velvetly sides a second or third time it grows calm and seems to enjoy the sensation. Continuing a steady, soft tickling the captain slips his hand further and further toward the head of the foolish trout. In cases where the whole operation has been watched from the opposite bank it has been noticed that the fish seems to surrender to the soothing touch as if under the influence of a spell, so that it will lean over upon the hand. When his hand is just back of the gills the captain's hand closes on the fish with the suddenness and power of a rat trap. With one quick flirt he sends his victim flying over on the opposite bank. So stealthy are the old man's movements that he has been known to tickle four trout, one at a time, from a single pool.

In Scotland, the old man's native country, he says this trick is a very common one, and is called "guddling." The method pursued there is to wade barefooted up a shallow stream in the hot season, when the water is very low. The trout will flee before the wader and take refuge in the secluded holes under rocks and stumps. Then the guddler proceeds to slip his hand under the rock or root and feel for the trout, which, once under his magic touch, he quickly flips onto dry land or into a basket.

Scientists who admit the possibility of trout tickling, say it is only during the spawning season that trout are susceptible to such manipulation. But as the New England brook trout do not spawn until late in July or August, and the captain catches them only in the open season, that is, from April 1 to July 1, the practice in his case does not seem to support the theory.

Catarrh in the Head

Is a dangerous disease because it is liable to result in loss of hearing or smell, or develop into consumption. Read the following:

"My wife has been a sufferer from catarrh for the past four years and the disease had gone so far that her eyesight was affected so that for nearly a year she was unable to read for more than five minutes at a time. She suffered severe pains in the head and at times was almost distracted. About Christmas, she commenced taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and since that time has steadily improved. She has taken six bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla and is on the road to a complete cure. I cannot speak too highly of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and I cheerfully recommend it." W. H. "I Am Permanently Cured."

The Joyful Exclamation of Mr. Alexander Moffatt, of Millbrook, Ont.

Paine's Celery Compound Victorious After the Doctors Failed.

Mr. Moffat is of the opinion that all his sufferings had their origin in liver complaint, a terribly dangerous malady that is dragging many a man and woman to the grave. This disease may be acute or chronic. In the acute form, their are violent burning pains conveyed to the shoulder and right arm, short cough, fever, irregular bowels and constipation. In the chronic form of liver complaint, there are many morbid conditions, such as enlargement, softening, abscesses and degeneration. The symptoms are, weight in stomach, flatulence, nausea, bilious vomiting, loss of appetite, thirst, white and dry tongue, bitter taste, and a host of other miserable conditions.

Long experience has fully proved that Paine's Celery Compound is the only medicine that can successfully grapple with the dread disease of liver complaint. Honest and able doctors are advising their patients to make use of Paine's Celery Compound, for the great reason that they know of no other medicine that gives such prompt and effective results. The cure of Mr. Moffat amply proves every statement made in favor of Paine's Celery Compound, and clearly demonstrates the fact, that when physicians fail to cure, nature's medicine is sure to do the good work. Mr. Moffat writes thus:—

"Having been a sufferer from severe pains in the side, back and breast, caused, I firmly believe, by a sluggish liver, I received the treatment of eminent physicians, and was compelled to wear a fur coat summer and winter; I was also advised to wear a chamois vest, but nothing seemed to do me good.

"At last I was advised by kind friends to try Paine's Celery Compound; and after using six bottles, I find that I am permanently cured. Paine's Celery Compound has indeed done wonders for me. You may publish this for the benefit of suffering humanity."

NEWS OF THE DOMINION.

Three Men Drowned at Orwell, Prince Edward Island—Lost in a Fog.

Welter and Hendershott, Unless Reprieved, Will be Executed on Tuesday.

Halifax, June 14.—Word was received here to-day that three men were drowned at Orwell, P. E. I., yesterday afternoon. They were Edmund and John Hughes and James Daly. One of the Hughes brothers went in swimming while the others remained on shore. When beyond his depth he was seized with cramps. The others went into the water to rescue him and all three lost their lives. The Hughes brothers were unmarried and resided in Orwell. Daly belonged to Montague. He leaves a wife and three children.

Halifax, N. S., June 14.—Herbert Feener and Benjamin Phinney, two of the four men reported astray by the Gloucester schooner Robin Hood yesterday, arrived here to-day, having been picked up by a French steamer after they had been adrift 48 hours. Phinney is the one listed as an unknown. Neither of the men can tell what became of their comrades, John Macdonald and Samuel Savery, who were in another dory, as a fog shut down upon them and they thus became separated last Friday morning. No vessel arriving has reported anything of Macdonald and Savery, and it is feared they were drowned.

Toronto, June 14.—The warrants and depositions of witnesses, charging Thos. T. Gray and Bessie, his wife, with burning their house in Otonabee, near Peterboro, Ont., and the murder of David Scollie on February 23, 1894, were received in the office of the attorney-general this afternoon, and when the evidence of Messrs. Cavan and Primrose are taken, application will be made for the extradition of Mr. and Mrs. Gray, who are supposed to be at present in Florida.

St. Thomas, June 14.—At the sessions to-day Sam Pickell, manager of the Paris Gaiety Company, was acquitted on the charge of publishing printed matter tending to corrupt morals, in the form of dodgers, but was found guilty of giving an indecent show.

St. Thomas, June 14.—Radcliffe, the hangman, arrived here to-day and commenced the erection of the scaffold for the execution of Welter and Hendershott, found guilty of the murder of Hendershott, the nephew of the latter, for the purpose of obtaining the insurance on his life, and condemned to be executed next Tuesday. The question of reprieve will be discussed at the privy council in Ottawa to-morrow.

Woodstock, Ont., June 14.—Solomon Perrier, [illegible] charged with the abduction of his step-daughter caused a sensation a short time ago, was tried here to-day on a charge of indecent assault preferred by the girl. He was found guilty and sentenced to two years in the penitentiary and to receive 35 lashes.

Montreal, June 14.—La Minerve publishes an article calling imperatively on the federal government to intervene and pass remedial legislation on the Manitoba school question. It says that Manitoba, by refusing to comply with the remedial order, has voluntarily renounced its right as a province to control its educational matters. Its refusals have given the federal parliament the necessary legal authority to intervene and remedy the infamous law of 1890. It has confidence that the government will decide to intervene this session.

Winnipeg, June 14.—Lady Thompson, widow of the late Sir John Thompson, and three daughters passed through the city to-day en route to Victoria, B.C., where they will be the guests of Lieut.-Governor and Mrs. Dewdney. They occupied a special private car and were driven around the city during their brief stay here.

The Winnipeg council and the department of the interior are still at loggerheads over the city's smallpox quarantine claims. The council wants $10,000 from the government, but the minister of the interior will only sanction payment of $5,000. Thus the matter stands. The city's total disbursements in connection with the visitation were nearly $14,000.

Rev. John McLean has been elected president of the Manitoba and Northwest Methodist conference. W. T. Milliken, a probationer, stationed at Fort Francis, Ont., has been dropped from the rolls of conference for having entered the marriage relation.

Staff-Sergeant Wynne, of the 90th battallion, was notified to-day that he had been selected as a member of the Bisley team.

The school question was not referred to at this afternoon's session of the legislature, which was very brief. Premier Greenway returned from Toronto this afternoon and it is expected the debate on the reply will begin at Monday's session.

Hon. J. G. Ward, colonial treasurer of New Zealand, Mrs. Ward and Captain Montrose, private secretary, passed through this city en route home via Vancouver from a trip to England. Mr. Ward's mission to England was to negotiate a loan of $7,500,000.

Qu'Appelle, June 14.—Serious loss has been caused to cattle and horses here, some twenty head having died from the attacks of swarms of a peculiar gray fly. The pest only lasted forty-eight hours and has disappeared. A similar visitation occurred four years ago, but the loss was not large. The fly is said to resemble a common uncleanly insect with wings.

None But Ayer's at the World's Fair.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla enjoys the extraordinary distinction of having been the only blood purifier allowed an exhibit at the World's fair, Chicago. Manufacturers of other sarsaparillas sought by every means to obtain a showing of their goods, but they were all turned away under the application of the rule forbidding the entry of patent medicines and nostrums. The decision of the World's fair authorities in favor of Ayer's Sarsaparilla was in effect as follows: "Ayer's Sarsaparilla is not a patent medicine. It does not belong to the list of nostrums. It is here on its merits."

MAR LODGE BURNED.

Residence of the Duke of Fife Completely Destroyed.

London, June 15.—The family residence of the Duke and Duchess of Fife, Mar Lodge, Braemar, was totally destroyed by fire to-day. The fire broke out in the Duke's office study and spread [illegible] The [illegible] servants in the efforts made to quench the flames, but all such attempts were fruitless. The Queen drove from Balmoral to witness the fire. Mar Lodge was built entirely of native pine. A splendid clock presented by the Prince of Wales to the Duke and Duchess of Fife in the west wing was destroyed. Most of the furniture and pictures were rescued. The Duchess of Fife's jewels are believed to be intact. The tenants on the estate, by forming [illegible] prevented the spread of the fire to the tennis court, ball room and dairy.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

The Iron and Steel Industry in Better Than it Has Been for Many Years.

Enterprise at Puget Sound Points—Fairly Active Business in Canada.

New York, June 15.—R. G. Dun & Co. in their weekly review of the trade say: "It is no longer a question whether buisness improves. Not for a long time have our reports from all parts of the country been so uniformly favorable. The yearly average bank clearings in June were 24.8 per cent. larger than last year, though 11.4 per cent less than in 1892. The most potent influence has been the receipt of more favorable advices regarding growing crops. Even official statements helped, because altogether less gloomy than previous rumors. Labor troubles are getting out of the way, wages in many establishments are rising, and with the iron industry just now leading, there is a general improvement in manufactures. Monetary conditions also help. The government crop reports were so much less disal than was expected that they really extinguished for a time a host of calamitous rumors. The decidedly cheering outlook for spring wheat, which our own and other private advices confirm, goes far to balance reports of loss in winter wheat regions, and even these in the light of the demonstrated deficiency of official returns of acreage were found far more encouraging than previous accounts. Western receipts for the two weeks of June were 3,116,680 bushels of wheat against 3,001,202 last year, while Atlantic exports, flour included, were only 2,264,847 bushels against 4,630,227 last year. The effects of the rise in prices were seen in the official report of many exports, showing a decrease of 1,000,000 bushels from Atlantic, but an increase of 2,000,000 bushels from Pacific ports. The price declined 2½ cents with small trading. Corn also declined about one per cent. with better reports of growth. The official statement of 14.8 per cent. decrease in common acreage was quickly found, in view of the revised government estimates for last year, to mean more than two million acres now growing cotton, which much exceeds the best unofficial estimates, and from an area no greater over nine million bales were produced in 1891, so that the report gave no aid to prophets of evil. That some reduction would be well for the south is clear, but the heavy present surplus will cover a larger loss than seems probable. Cotton mills are doing well, for the reason, and numerous advances of an eighth to a quarter in brown sheetings, drills and bleached muslin are still reported. The wool manufacturers look for speedy settlements of labor troubles and find a moderate demand for low and medium heavy weight goods, while some of the cheaper kinds of spring goods have been opened with encouraging reports, but as to better grades there is still great uncertainty about prices. Wool sales for two weeks of June have been 12,561,965 pounds, against 11,520,550 in 1892, of which 6,791,300 were foreign this year against 5,563,300 in 1892. The output of pig iron up to June 1st was but a trifle larger than May 1st. The anthracite coal trade does not maintain the improvement recently reported, and with palpable overproduction, bad faith being charged, the price has declined 25 cents. Failures for the past week have been 241 in the United States against 232 last year, and 24 in Canada against 40 last year.

New York, June 15.—Bradstreet's say: "The recent check to activity in general trade, taking the country as a whole, which followed the severe and unusual frosts of the close of May, has begun to register itself in relatively fewer upward spurts of prices for staples and moderately smaller total clearings. Cotton, leather, wheat, railway and other securities have each presented a season of active demand and advancing prices, but none of them have outdone iron and steel, which, without special orders from railroad and other large consumers, have advanced all along the line. The industry is undoubtedly in a better position to-day than for years.

The latest evidence of enterprise from Tacoma is a new packing house to start on July 1 to supply the Russian government with several thousand barrels of beef. The coal trade at Seattle is growing, over 31,000 tons being shipped thence in May. The Oregon fruit crop will be a large one and collections and trade at Portland are improving. The new steamship line from New Orleans to Colon has diverted large California wine shipments from rail to the Panama route.

"Advices from Montreal are that the upward tendency of prices for leather has checked business with manufacturers of shoes, as the retail trade anticipated a reaction. There is a noticeable improvement in the demand for staple goods throughout the province of Quebec compared with last year. In Ontario collections are more prompt and business in wholesale lines is fairly active. The hay crop in Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island is reported as excellent, as are the chief industries and fruit crops in the latter. Trade remains quiet in New Brunswick. Bank clearings at Winnipeg, Hamilton, Montreal, Toronto, and Halifax aggregate $22,622,000 this week, a shade lower than last week, as compared with $18,436,000 in the week a year ago, and about the same amount two years ago. There are 21 business failures reported from the Dominion this week, against 27 last week, 30 in the week a year ago and 30 two years ago."

Bradstreet's reports the total bank clearings for the week at 84 principal cities in the United States as being $1,[illegible] an increase over last year of 12.8 per cent. Outside of New York City the clearings were $456,886,867, an increase of 15.1 per cent. For the Dominion of Canada the clearings were: Montreal, $12,294,656, increase, 14.1; Toronto, $7,040,456, increase, 41.7 per cent; Halifax, $1,367,170, increase, 346 per cent.; Hamilton, $736,203, increase 7.9 per cent.; Winnipeg, $860,503, increase, 19.2 per cent. Total, $22,622,988, increase, 22.8 per cent.

ENGRAVING DIAMONDS.

A Feat Long Considered Impossible at Last Has Been Accomplished.

Diamonds now can be engraved in a very artistic manner. The development of the diamond cutting art brings into existence a new class of jewelry, for which a considerable demand is expected.

It was long believed that the diamond could not be engraved with safety or satisfactory results. A few stones roughly engraved were found in India, and a diamond was exhibited at the Paris Exposition of 1878 on which a portrait of the King of Holland was scratched. But this work was very imperfect, and the stones were rather depolished than engraved.

Some of the finest examples of engraving on diamonds are the work of M. Berdinet, a Paris jeweler.

One is a scarf pin representing a yatagban, of which the blade is a slender diamond; the handle is a ruby. Another example is a large circular stone on which a pansy, with its foliage, is engraved. In another case the design is a knife, made with two diamonds.

An elaborate piece of work is a bicycle, of which the wheels are two circular diamonds. The spokes are represented by lines engraved on the diamonds. A small hole is pierced at each axle.

Another diamond is carved like a fish. A handsome brooch is a scarabaeus, surrounded by sapphires and brilliants.

The most remarkable is a ring made of one diamond, the interior surface being polished and the interior elaborately engraved. It is said that there is nothing similar to this in existence.

Other examples are brooches, representing flies, of which the wings are thin, engraved diamonds; two diamonds engraved with armorial bearings, the imperial arms of Russia being used in one instance on shirt and cuff buttons.

Formerly it was only possible to produce the polish on flat surfaces, but M. Berdinet has been able to do this on concave portions, as on the body and tail of the fish and the interior of the ring.—New York World.

MERITS OF THE RAISIN.

It Has Great Nutritious as Well as Medicinal Properties.

As the grape cure has made its way into modern methods of dealing with disease—hundreds filling the German establishments where this return to nature is practiced—many a patient who has found himself made over by the treatment has added to it a use of the dried grape, or raisin. Fruit of all sorts is becoming more and more a part of the regular food supply and a growing constituency of people announce themselves as believers in a diet of fruit and nuts. Leaving these extremists out of the present question, it is certain that health increases for whoever substitutes fruit, both fresh and dried, for a large part of the ordinary diet in daily use. One of our best literary workers has found that a bunch of good raisins with a slice of bread a crisp cracker or two makes a lunch that is not only satisfying but leaves the brain clear for the afternoon's work. Every or The Bard of Avon for [illegible] fathers the Muscatel raisins, called so perhaps from the Muscat grape, brought by the Moors from their African homes into Spain, were credited with a special recuperative force, and known as "raysons of the sun." They were part of the equipage of a last illness. Saffron water and these "rayesons of the sun" were side by side on the neat little table, which held also the big Bible reserved for solemn occasions, all three reminding [illegible] the ordinary fare of mortal life.

But there need be no such somber association with the raisin of to-day, our own California, providing, at its best, a rich fruity raisin, sun dried, of course, yet not so much dried as distilled, all the watery parts being driven off, and the richer qualities of the grape developed into Nature's own elixir. These raisins, with whole wheat bread, make a genuine food, good for child as well as man; and hailed by the children with acclamation. The need for [illegible] stinct with children—is met in raisins or dates in infinitely more healthy fashion than in any other order of sweet, and the child who has full provision of such fruits makes no demand for candy or cake. The best California raisins are now cheap enough to be within the means of all, and their use is steadily increasing. A set of young lawyers in New York have adopted fruit as a lunch, finding that work can go on with none of the sense of heaviness produced by the ordinary meal; and raisins have been introduced as one of the most satisfying forms.—Philadelphia Press.

THE FALL SHOW.

The coming agricultural and industrial exhibition is a matter which citizens would do well to keep in mind. This year's show is to be held at an earlier date than previous shows, with the object of securing good weather, and if the weather from September 16th to 21st is as fair as past records promise the exhibition should have a satisfactory measure of success. But to secure success the usual systematic and energetic efforts will have to be put forth. The association is actively at work, and it should have the co-operation of the public. Though the date is to be earlier than usual, there is good reason to expect that it will not prove too early for the farmers, for the season is much further advanced than in former years; harvest work will in all probability be well over before the end of August. The agricultural part of the show promises to be complete and successful, and it is particularly desirable that the industrial part should be brought up to the same level. Manufacturers will of course be consulting their own interests in making a good display, but they should also keep in mind the advisability of increasing the general excellence of the show as much as possible. The co-operation of the public is necessary to win success, and we believe it will be willingly and actively granted.

ANOTHER BOOMERANG.

When Mr. Cockburn's wine-guzzling and shoe-blacking account was presented and commented upon by the opposition press as an instance of extravagance, the "boodle" organs in the East attempted to minimize the startling nature of the charges by stating that the expenses of Mr. Nicholas Awrey, who represented the province of Ontario at Chicago, amounted to $6738, while Mr. Cockburn's were only $4425. The Colonist, taking its cue from the eastern "organs," said, in an article headed "A Small Business," on the 11th instant: "The people of the province of Ontario paid Mr. Nicholas Awrey, who is no doubt a good Grit, $6378 for serving them in the same capacity as Mr. Cockburn served the people of the whole Dominion, yet the Conservative papers of the province did not raise an outcry about the money paid for blacking Mr. Awrey's shoes and for washing Mr. Awrey's shirts." The Halifax Recorder, however, goes very fully into the matter and shows that while Ontario's total expense in connection with the Chicago Fair amounted to $6378, the Dominion looked on the show as a huge picnic for its friends and Mr. Cockburn was only one of the many in the swim. The Recorder's summary of the Dominion expenditure in connection with the fair is reproduced in another column. It is moreover decidedly untruthful to say that the Conservative press did not raise an outcry about Mr. Awrey's account. Both the Conservative papers outside and the Conservative members inside the legislative assembly raised an outcry, with the usual result that their outcry was found to have no justification. That was the difference between Mr. Awrey's accounts and Mr. Cockburn's.

The subsidized press during the Quebec West contest not unfrequently spoke of the notorious Thomas McGreevy as a Liberal candidate. The following intimation, however, firmly establishes the correct type of "Grit" Thomas:

"(Private.)

"House of Commons.

"To Thomas McGreevy, Esq., M. P.:

"Dear Sir,—The vote on the budget debate will take place on Monday night or Tuesday at the latest. Kindly be within bell call. By order,

"ADRIEN DESROSIERS,
"For the Whips."

"May 10, 1895.

Messrs. Earle and Prior would receive similar the same instructions to "be within bell call."

In the house of commons lately Controller Wallace stated that the total importations from Australia from 30th of June, 1894, to 31st of March, 1895, were of the value of $52,012. The chief items were: Bananas and pineapples, $1346; hides and skins, $1458; wools, $12,460. These are the free items. The dutiable imports were: Eggs, $4; oranges and lemons and limes, $2874; butter, 36,907 pounds, $5926; lard, $187; salted beef, $161; canned meats, $7413; mutton and lamb, 16,052 pounds, valued at $576; poultry, $96; sausage casings, $366; tallow, $43; honey, $96.

"Why women write postscripts" is a problem that has been engaging the attention of one of the London woman's weeklies. The answers betray that the sex understands itself, and does not mind exposing its amiable weaknesses. All are from women who ascribe, among others, these reasons: "Because they seek to rectify want of thought by an afterthought;" "Because they are fond of having a last word;" "Because they write before they think, and think after they have written." One correspondent puts down the feminine P. S. to the same cause "which leads women to prolonged leave-taking in omnibusses, namely," and rather profoundly it appears to the casual observer, "that they lack organization of thought." Another woman comes to the defence of her sisters with the suggestion "that when women have anything special to communicate they know that their P. S. is equivalent to N. B.," and yet another friendly soul turns a neat compliment in her reason: "Probably because woman herself is the embodiment of the P. S. in the scale of creation she—the indispensable—was added last."

In his address at the Bank of Montreal meeting Sir Donald Smith referred to the comparative emptiness of the Northwest as follows:

"It behooves us, however, to put forth every possible effort in aid of the revival of prosperity. This, it appears to me, can well be done by encouraging the settlement of our vast, practically unoccupied territory in the Northwest, for surely two or three hundred thousand is indeed a sparse population for a district capable of maintaining millions in comfort and independence. This is not to be accomplished by constructing lines of railways where they are not and cannot, for many years to come, be required, but by offering every proper inducement to emigrants to take up farms near to the railways which at present exist and which offer every requisite facility for transport and for all the trade that under the most favorable circumstances we can hope for in these many years to come. It appears to me that what is wanted is a well-conceived system of emigration from the United Kingdom and other countries of Europe, and we have every reason for believing that money judiciously spent in this way would be refunded to us ten-fold. It is true that the Northwest has been greatly benefited by migration from the older provinces, and especially from Ontario; but what is gain to that part of the Dominion has undoubtedly, to some extent, been a disadvantage to the other provinces, in that the population in the eastern portion of the Dominion is not sufficient to permit of its being, to any extent, depleted to strengthen the west."

Sir Donald's fling at the Hudson Bay railway proposal will be noticed. The Montreal Gazette recently took occasion to refer to the same project in the following way: "The loan to the Hudson Bay Railway Company which the government has proposed making is not at all likely to be proceeded with. Public opinion clearly runs counter to so large an advance as $10,000 a mile for a mere colonization road which neither the cost of construction nor the needs of the Northwest can justify." Yet Conservative papers and politicians in Manitoba represent the hostility to this project as coming solely from the Liberals.

THE LATE DUKE OF HAMILTON.

To the Editor: May I ask you to publish the following extracts from the Oban Times, one of the principal newspapers in the Highlands of Scotland and radical in politics, as the other side of the picture drawn by your Glasgow correspondent of the late Duke of Hamilton, Scotland's premier peer:

"On Sunday, the 26th of May, the Rev. Duncan Black, of Kilmory, at the close of his sermon, paid a high tribute to the memory of the late Duke of Hamilton. 'The tenantry of Arran, he said, 'have lost a landlord the equal of whom they are not likely to see again. I have no hesitation in saying that a better, more generous, or more indulgent landlord he has not left in all Scotland. And the happy result of his goodness is to be seen in the comfort and prosperity of his tenantry all over the island. A praiseworthy proof of the excellence as landlords of the Dukes of Hamilton is furnished by the fact that there is not another estate in Scotland, so far as I know, that has retained its native population as Arran has done in centuries. Notwithstanding the absence of a leasehold security, there have been generally speaking no removals from their holdings, the same families occupying in many instances the same holdings in succession for one, two, and three hundred years.' The reverend gentleman concluded his remarks by saying that he for one should never cease to gratefully and warmly cherish the memory of one who had done so much for that extensive parish."

Now, sir, I do not add to this further than to point out that the reverend gentleman delivered the foregoing remarks in Arran and knew whereof he spoke. Your Glasgow correspondent no doubt echoes the opinion of the Glasgow merchant and shopkeeper whom the duke refused to grant building sites to in the burgh school for very good reasons at the time, and in the interests of his tenantry. His character was far from perfect doubtless, but when such remarks could be delivered from the pulpit of a parish church and by the parish minister, whose position is one of absolute independence of landlord or tenant, I would respectfully submit that there was some good, and much of it, too, in Scotland's lately deceased premier peer.

A POT OF GOLD

The Mystery Surrounding an Old Dwelling House Situated on Fisguard Street.

Tenantless for 20 Years—Treasure Said to be Buried on the Premises.

Over on Fisguard street, near the Masonic Hall, stands a two-story dwelling house which has not had a tenant for nearly a quarter of a century. The fact that it has remained tenantless for so long a period would in itself be enough to excite wonderment, but when it is known that the house is—and has been all these years—fully furnished from top to bottom, even to the extent of having lace curtains and blinds upon the windows, the curious at once commence asking questions.

It is a strange story, the story which is told of this deserted dwelling, the very appearance of which is suggestive of mystery, and it will, perhaps, throw some light upon what has come to be looked upon by most Victorians as an unsolvable mystery.

Many years ago, so the story goes, this house, which is situated as described above, was erected by a Mr. ——, a wealthy gentleman, who had a short time before arrived with his wife and family from Australia, where he had accumulated some considerable wealth. He was an eccentric individual this Mr. ——, and had an abhorrence of banks and bankers. He brought with him from Australia, it is said, a large sum of money in gold coin, which, for safe keeping, he deposited in an earthern receptacle and secretly buried in the yard which surrounded the dwelling.

Years passed away. Mr. —— prospered and his hidden hoard was secretly added to on numerous occasions. But at last he sickened and was about to die. While on his deathbed he called his wife to him and made her swear a solemn oath that she would not reveal to a living soul the hidden place of the treasure. She took the oath, and from that day to this—a period of twenty-five years—has faithfully guarded the secret conveyed to her by her dying husband.

After his death, awed perhaps by some superstitious fear, she refused to remain longer in the house, which continually brought to mind memories of her departed husband and his dying caution. So she closed up the place—disturbing nothing, not even a chair—and took up her residence in a country district adjacent to the city.

Many applications were made by persons who desired to rent the place, but no, always the same: "It is not for rent." During the boom, houses were at a premium, and this one being centrally located, was often applied for—it adjoins the Chinese quarter and many Chinese were among the applicants—but they all received the same reply: "My house is not for rent."

And so the old house has stood for the past twenty-five years—moss grown, weather beaten, windows with nearly every pane of glass shattered by missiles thrown by mischievous boys, the wind moans through the deserted rooms and rustles the dingy, faded curtains, which limp, threadbare and faded, yet hang from the casement.

There are a few in Victoria, who, it is believed, know the truth of the above story, and it is whispered that on more than one occasion midnight visits have been paid to the old deserted dwelling by those who, with iron probing rod in hand, have labored long and often in fruitless search for the buried treasure.

This is the story told of the old house, and though there may be no truth in the report that a pot of gold coin is buried on the premises the fact remains that the house stands to-day just as it did twenty-five years ago when the present owner moved away upon the death of her husband.

Surrounded by an old picket fence in a sad state of decay, with rank weeds flourishing unchecked upon every hand, its worm-eaten timbers nearly hidden by a thick growth of underbrush, it stands on Fisguard street.

THE TACOMA ARRIVES.

She Had a Very Pleasant Trip Across the Pacific.

The steamship Tacoma left Yokohama Saturday, June 1, the same day as the Empress of Japan, and was 14 days in making the trip across. The weather throughout the voyage could not have been finer and the passengers and crew alike will remember it with pleasure. As with the Empress, warm, sunny weather, bright skies and light winds, were experienced daily. The voyage was without incident almost. The ship left Hongkong on May 19th, Amoy May 21st, Shanghai May 24th and Yokohama June 1st. She passed the cape early this morning and was brought up to the wharf at noon by Pilot Newby. The ship brought a cargo of 3,000 tons of freight, mostly silk, part of the season's tea. The Victoria freight amounted to less than 100 tons. There were 22 Japanese and 18 Chinese passengers, a few of whom landed here.

The cabin list was as follows: Congressman W. H. Doolittle, Miss Doolittle, Col. and Mrs. Huestis, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. McCrosky, Mrs. F. Aldrich, Miss Bogue, Mr. and Mrs. Melhuish and child, E. O. Reis, J. J. Coultfiard, Rev. M. Tai and F. Ramousch.

The Doolittle party were the round trip on the Tacoma, and all except Mr. Mercer, who remained in Japan for a more extended visit, returned. The trip was a most pleasant one in every respect, and the excursionists speak in the highest terms of everything they saw. E. O. Reiss, one of the passengers, is in the Chinese customs service, and is returning home to England. Rev. M. Tai is a Christian Japanese.

There was no later news of Oriental affairs than brought by the Empress. The Tacoma left for the Sound at 3 o'clock. The Chittagong was entering Yokohama harbor as the Tacoma left.

A New York dispatch of to-day says: Col. John A. Cockerill telegraphs the Herald the following from Tokyo: "Representative William H. Doolittle, of Washington, who has been visiting Japan for some weeks, celebrated the emperor's return yesterday in Yokohama by riding about in a jinriksha carrying the Japanese flag and the stars and stripes on a staff. He placed the flag of Japan above that of his country, a neat compliment to the emperor, but it has caused much acrimonious debate and criticism among Americans, who thought the flag of their country should never be subordinated. Mr. Doolittle will apply for a decision from the navy department upon his return home. The governor of Kanagawa prefecture was so pleased with the representative's performance that he sent to his hotel for his card, to forward the same to the emperor."

APPOINTMENTS BY COUNCIL.

To the Editor:—Do you think it just or right for the mayor and aldermen in council in appointing public servants to pass over good men that have been here over a quarter of a century and have built up homes here, supported charities and looked after the orphans, but have been so unfortunate as to lose all in business in your city during these trying times, and are recommended by citizens of good standing, and appoint men who have been here comparatively a short time and have nothing to recommend them?

JUSTICE.

COL. PRIOR'S STAND.

To the Editor: I observe by the Colonist this morning that Col. Prior has been making a courageous stand at Ottawa in the interests of his constituency. The courageous stands consists in an advocacy of $400 per year increase to the salary of the chief justice, which was conducted with "marked ability." Col. Prior's courageous stands in the interests of his constituency always reminds me of a certain kind of soldier who was said to be "invincible in peace and invisible in war." There are, you know, certain men who can make a great flourish about nothing, but when trouble really commences they crawl under the bed. But what of our friend Earle? He left here some months ago for Ottawa. Did he ever reach there? I have no information at hand that he did, although I read all the newspapers.

JOHNNY.

LA VENDEE AND ITS PEOPLE.

A Corner in France That Exhibited Some Peculiarities.

In La Vendee there were no great lords; the landowners may be described rather as gentry than as nobility. The difference between these two classes of landowners called forth the following remark from Arthur Young, who says:

"Wherever you stumple on a grand seigneur you are sure to find his property desert; go to their residence, and you will probably find them in the midst of a forest very well peopled with deer, wild boars and wolves. Oh! if I was legislator of France for a day, I would make such great lords skip again."

The higher nobility were absentees, and with few exceptions lavished their revenues at court in pure selfishness. In La Vendee, the landowners for the most part lived in their chateaux, sharing with their tenants according to the metayer system, the bad years with the good. In the woody district known as the Bocage, there was plenty of sport, the pleasure and profit of which were also shared. When the seigneur went to the chase he was always accompanied by the peasants, who not only became expert shots thereby, but their general intelligence was developed by intercourse with their superiors. The Vendeans were a deeply religious people; they had their priests deservedly in reverence. The church itself represented a sanctuary. The tradition had come down to them from the old troublous times when many churches were fortified, and offered shelter to the family of the villagers when attacked by marauding enemies. The bells—each one bearing the name of a favorite local saint—had a sort of personality. On returning home the traveller knew the bells of his own parish; and in fancy how [illegible] his ear when leagues distant. In 1794 it was decreed that the church bells should be taken down and made into cannon. In La Vendee the villagers loudly protested against this; and it is related that one poor woman, flinging her arms around the bell as it lay on the ground, about to be carted away, cried out in an agony of grief: "Oh, thou who hast rung from my birth, wilt thou not knell for my death?"—Temple Bar.

REMOVAL NOTICE.

C. H. BOWES has removed his Drug Store from 27 Johnson St. to 100 Government St., near P.O.

BRIEF LOCALS.

Gleanings of City and Provincial News in a Condensed Form.

—Galvanized wire chicken fencing at cut prices. Shore's hardware. *

—Captain May will be unable to give his lecture on Coast Defence at the Drill shed to-night owing to illness.

—A meeting of the A.O.U.W. Building Society was held last night. The annual reports made a good showing.

—There will be an entertainment by Victoria West Lodge, Good Templars, to-night. It will the fourth of the series.

—The proceeds of the garden party to be given at the residence of Mrs. Dier, Pandora avenue, will go to Calvary Baptist church.

—Mr. Piper, who fell and broke his bicycle on Fort street owing to the bad condition of the street, will ask the city council to reimburse him.

—Strawberry festival at the Y.M.C.A. to-night; 10 cents admission; strawberries, cream and cake 10 cents extra. Bantly's orchestra will provide music for the occasion.

—The swinging baskets of Chinese peddlers will be the next sidewalk nuisance to be done away with. Ald. Wilson has asked the police to "gather in" offending Mongolians.

—An ice cream social will be held Dominion Day by the Salvation Army, the proceeds of which will go towards paying off a small deficit in fitting up the Food and Shelter Home.

—A promenade concert and strawberry festival will be given by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Jubilee Hospital at the A. O. U. W. Hall, Yates St., on Saturday, June 22nd, from 8 to 11 p.m. Tickets 25 cents. *

—An effort will be made to settle the Coughlan & Mayo difficulty. On Monday a joint meeting of the sewerage commissioners and the city council will be held, at 10 in the morning. The commissioners will hold a meeting half an hour earlier to make arrangements preliminary to the joint meeting.

—Three old dilapidated shacks were burned down this morning by Sanitary Inspector Condin. The fire department was on hand to prevent the blaze spreading. Two of the tottering buildings were used as Chinese wash-houses, were situate at the foot of Johnson street and were owned by W. C. White; the third building was on Store street and was owned by Carlo Bossi.

—"The Haymakers" will be produced by the First Presbyterian church choir under the direction of Mr. J. G. Brown, on Friday, the 28th inst. The chorus will number between thirty-five and forty voices. The soloists are: Miss Wilson, Mrs. Gregson, Mr. Cochrane, Mr. Wilson, and Mr. Kinnaird. In addition to the cantata, there will be a miscellaneous programme.

—Leopold Boscowitz, a brother of Joseph Boscowitz of this city, died in New York this morning. Very brief dispatches containing news of his death were received to-day. Mr. Boscowitz was engaged in the wholesale tobacco business in this city with his brother in early days, and afterwards went into the fur business, being for many years interested in the Alaska Fur Company. He retired about fifteen years ago. He leaves a wife, but no children.

—Captain Patterson of the Salvation Army Food and Shelter Home reports since the opening on May 6 to June 13 there had been 486 men admitted to the Home; 353 of whom, or an average of 8 per day, have worked in the wood yard in conjunction with the Shelter, for their board and lodging; 106 men have paid, and 30 have been admitted by cupon tickets. Since the opening 1,041 meals have been given out and 279 beds occupied. The men are very civil and respectful, and seem to appreciate the Home.

—The fire department was twice called out last night in rapid succession. The first fire was at Mr. Johnston's residence, Richardson street, and the second blaze was a grass fire on Blanchard street. Mr. Johnston's family, with the help of many willing hands, succeeded in saving a major portion of the furniture. The fire originated on the roof of the kitchen, and is thought to have been caused by a spark from the chimney. The roof was badly damaged and some of the furniture was burned. Damage, $1,000. Insurance was held in the Northern Insurance Company.

—A public meeting is to be held at Duncan's on Monday evening to discuss the question of marketing dairy produce and fruit of the district.

—7 days only left, so girls and boys be in time, be in time; try your luck in Partridge's competition prize advertisement: "Dress fabrics in all shades." *

—The steamship Warrimoo will sail for the South Seas to-morrow. She will leave Vancouver at 7 a.m. and will arrive here about noon. She will sail again about three o'clock.

—There was no session of city police court this morning. There were two sanitary cases pending, but it was announced that service had not been obtained in the first and that the second had been withdrawn.

—The Y.M.C.A. extend a cordial invitation to all to attend the service of song in their hall to-morrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. Mr. P. C. L. Harris will conduct the exercises of the afternoon. Ladies are inviterd as well as men.

—Tim Mathew, a seaman on the Triumph, refused to go aboard the schooner when ordered by Capt. Cox. He was arrested by the provincial police and was ordered kept in jail till Capt. Cox was ready to sail. The Triumph will probably sail to-night for the Behring sea.

—G. Walker and A. R. McDonald (late of the Western Hotel) having leased the Clarence Hotel, corner of Douglas and Yates streets, will be glad to see both old and new friends. The best of liquors are dispensed at the bar and good rooms to let by day or month with or without board at moderate rates. *

—The committee to which was referred the tenders for the filter beds met again yesterday afternoon. Mayor Teague, Aldermen Williams, Wilson and Bragg, Water Commissioner Raymur and Engineer Jorgensen were present, as was Mr. Haggerty. There was a lengthy discussion, but nothing was done. The committee will very likely meet again on Monday.

—On Tuesday evening next Mrs. W. A. Dier will give a garden party for the benefit of Calvary Baptist church. The spacious grounds surrounding the residence on Pandora avenue, near Fernwood road, will be illuminated with Chinese lanterns and Bantly's orchestra will discourse sweet music. Ice cream and strawberries will be served and a most enjoyable evening is anticipated.

—Fourteen sealing schooners cleared from the customs to-day for the Behring sea. They will get away between now and Monday morning. The schooners that cleared and their masters are: Sapphire, Wm. Cox; Triumph, C. Cox; Maud S, R. E. McKiel; Dora Sieward, H. F. Sieward; Oscar and Hattie, T. Maguessen; Katherine, J. Gould; Saucy Lass, D. Martin; Aurora, T. Harold; Alnoka, G. Heater; Annie C. In dealing with the claim made by the "boodle" press, that while "honest" Mr. Cockburn's expenses only reached some $4,000 the bill rendered by Mr. Awrey, of Ontario, "a good Grit," amounted to some $6,000, the Halifax Recorder says:

"Mr. Awrey's expenditure was the total for Ontario in connection with its representation at the World's Exposition. It included all charges? Was Mr. Cockburn's? Not by a jugful of the potent liquids that were charged for. It is only this year that the Dominion treasury has been bled in connection with the representation at the Exposition. While it was in progress, hangers-on from about every province were "sent" there—it was a way of getting something for them to do, at good pay. Abraham Lincoln, while beset with office-seekers after his inauguration, was attacked with small-pox, and remarked to his physician: "I have now something I can give everybody who calls." The government at Ottawa seemed to recognize the utility of the exposition in the same way. We have before us the Dominion Auditor's report for 1893-94, and in it we find the following choice catalogue, in which it will be noted Mr. Cockburn's mission is included:

Salaries at Ottawa, (part A)	3,025 36

This is all we have room for to-day; there are more than as many more pages, and the total is more than two hundred and ten thousand, or to be exact, $210,107.44.

It may be noted that many of these "jobs" were evidently only given to enable the parties to be subsidized while "taking in" the exposition, while in other cases the names were of mere boys.

How is that for a Tory picnic?

It will be noticed by the list of salary drawers, that Senator Tassé had $3,859 as his share of the pudding. The senator sent in a statement that he had expended at the Virginia Hotel, $3,110.20 of this amount. This was accepted by the auditor-general, but as there was a balance of about $800, for which there was no vouchers, he was asked to show in what way he had expended this. About three months afterwards the auditor general wrote the department of agriculture to furnish these particulars, when the deputy minister replied that a letter had been received from the senator which was accepted by the department as an explanation of his expenditure as one of the Canadian commissioners, "it having been personally expended by him; that he had not kept accounts, and could not give details."

Gentlemen, all! and "they spend money like gentlemen" (as was boasted of them by an enthusiastic apologist.) But it is about time that the people in general had a chance at some of the "good things."

—Wtih the blood full of humors, the heated term is all the more oppressive. Give the system a thorough cleansing with Ayer's Sarsaparilla and a dose or two of Ayer's Pills, and you will enjoy summer as never before in your life. Just try this for once, and you'll not repent it.

Fourth of July.

Tickets will be sold on July 3, good to return on July 6. For tickets call at the N. P. R. R. office, Government street.

NEW FOG SIGNALS.

Deputy Minister of Marine Smith Makes Some Objections.

London, June 14.—William Smith, Canadian deputy minister of marine and fisheries, was examined by a committee of the house of commons to-day on the projected new sound fog signal. He said that his government, since approving of the signals, has authorized him to come here to object to the signals. The committee asked for a formal authorization of this charge. Mr. Smith produced an order of the privy council, but the committee considered that they would be wanting in respect to the Dominion government if they allowed their approval to be qualified or acted upon without formal authorization. Mr. Smith, therefore, was only allowed to present objections on his own account and on behalf of the ship owners of Canada, the only rule of which they approved being the one to distinguish ships towing, which it was thought would be very desirable on the Atlantic.

Why Not You?

When thousands of people are taking Hood's Sarsaparilla to overcome the weakness and languor which are so common at this season, why are you not doing the same? When you know that Hood's Sarsaparilla has power to cure rheumatism, dyspepsia and all diseases caused by impure blood, why do you continue to suffer? Hood's cures others, why not you?

HOOD'S PILLS are prompt and efficient. 25c.

THIRTY YEARS OF TORTURE.

HANDS AND FINGERS TWISTED OUT OF SHAPE WITH RHEUMATISM.

The Story of an Old Man Now Nearing the Foot of Life's Hill—How Relief Came to Him After Repeated Failures and Disappointments.

From the Kemptville Advance.

"I am now almost at the foot of the hill of life, having attained the 76th year of my age, and never during that time have I made a statement more willingly and conscientiously than now. My body has been tortured by pain for upwards of thirty years, caused by rheumatism, and there are thousands enduring a like affliction that need not if they would but heed my experience and avail themselves of the proper means of relief. The disease first affected my hip and spread to my legs and arms. Like many sufferers I spared neither trouble nor expense in seeking something to alleviate the pain. The disease had made me so helpless that I was unable to put on my coat and my hands and fingers were being twisted out of shape. There seemed not a shadow of a hope of relief and very naturally I became discouraged and disheartened, and time after time have I given up in dispair.

I was unable to put on my coat.

While in Arizona three years ago I heard of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I sent for six boxes in order to give them a fair trial. I followed the directions closely and by the time the fourth box was finished the pain had greatly lessened and I was much improved. My friends having witnessed the wonderful effect upon my body could not help admiring the Pink Pills, and being about to leave for the east, I gave the remaining two boxes to them. Unfortunately I neglected getting another supply for nearly a year after returning to this port and I felt that to me Pink Pills were one of the necessaries of life. Last spring I procured a few boxes and have been taking them since with a very satisfactory effect, I am glad to say. Now I feel like a new man, entirely free from pain or stiffness of joint. I have a slight numbness of feet and half way to the knee, but am confident that these pills will relieve this feeling. Although well advanced in years, I am able and do walk many miles a day. For rheumatism Dr. Williams' Pink Pills stand pre-eminently above all other medicines according to my experience and I urge a trial on all suffering from this painful malady."

The above is an unvarnished statement of facts as told the Advance recently by Mr. George Selleck, an esteemed resident of Miller's Corners, and no one hearing the earnest manner of its recital could fail to be convinced of Mr. Selleck's sincerity. But if this were not enough hundreds of witnesses could be summoned, if need be, to prove the truth of every word stated. Mr. Angus Buchanan, the well known druggist and popular reeve of Kemptville, speaks of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as one of the most popular remedies known, having a great sale among his customers and giving general satisfaction.

Rheumatism, sciatica, neuralgia, partial paralysis, locomotor ataxia, nervous headache, nervous prostration and diseases depending on humors in the blood, such as scrofula, chronic erysipelas, etc., all disappear before a fair treatment of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They give a healthy glow to pale and sallow complexions and build up and renew the entire system. Sold by all dealers or sent postpaid at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by addressing the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., or Schenectady, N.Y. Don't be persuaded to take some substitute.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.

Discussion Regarding Recent Investigations—Officers Elected.

The Teachers' Association met yesterday afternoon in the Y. M. C. A. hall. The vice-president, Miss E. G. Lawson, occupied the chair. The officers for the ensuing half-year were elected as follows: President, Miss E. G. Lawson; Vice-President, L. Tait; Secretary-Treasurer, E. F. Doran; Executive Committee, Misses Duncan, Arrowsmith and Dowler and Donald Dallas. The widow of the late Mr. Neil Heath, through Police Magistrate Macrae, conveyed her thanks to the teachers of Victoria for their goodness and thoughtfulness in taking charge of the funeral.

The secretary of the Agricultural Association asked the teachers to make arrangements for Children's Day at the coming exhibition. A committee was appointed, consisting of Misses Cameron, Williams, Walker and King and Messrs. McNeill, Ross and Russell to make arrangements. The committee was instructed by the association to insist on the payment of the money due Mr. Russell for training the children last year, before promising any assistance from the teachers in making Children's Day a success.

After a short discussion 27 teachers voted for the adoption of the vertical style of writing in the schools, and 16 upheld the Spencerian system.

The publicity given to the speeches made by trustees in connection with the recent investigations was criticized by the teachers as calculated to injure the reputation of the public schools. A motion to request the board of trustees to deal with such matters in private was after some discussion withdrawn and no definite action was taken in the matter.

NEWS OF THE INTERIOR

Activity in the Trail Creek District—Record Office Out of Stationery.

The Kaslo and Slocan is Stirring the Canadian Pacific Into Action.

Rossland Miner.

F. E. Ward has made two of the biggest and best deals in the camp, the sale of the Kootenay to A. E. Humphreys of Duluth and the sale of the Commander to August Heinze of the Montana Ore Purchasing Company of Butte.

The British Columbia government cannot keep the Trail Creek record office supplied with enough stationery to meet the demand.

P. Genelle is down from Nakusp and is smiling all over at the developments on the Iron Horse and Monte Cristo, in the bond on which he is interested.

The Kaslo and Slocan railway is being pushed ahead to Cody Creek, and it is said will switchback down from Cody creek to tap the Slocan Star mine. This has awakened the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, who are now surveying from Three Forks to Cody also. As soon as the Kaslo & Slocan road is completed the Canadian Pacific will have to compete for Slocan trade at a heavy disadvantage, and unless they improve transfer facilities on the Arrow Lakes they will either transport Slocan ores at a loss or carry none of it. Serve them right. They have shown the most awkwish stupidity in handling the Slocan traffic. They actually put a premium on the construction of the Kaslo road. They made rates so high that goods could be laid down at Three Forks via Revelstoke, Nelson, and Kaslo cheaper than by their own chosen Nakusp route. Now they must get in and drill. They have steadily underestimated the value to transportation companies of West Kootenay trade and have tried to keep the country as a private preserve of their own. They have been badly left, and unless they show some enterprise and a little common sense they will be as badly left in handling the gold ore of Traill Creek as they are likely to be in handling the silver ore of Slocan.

ENGLISH VINEYARDS.

Wine-Making a Lost Art About the City of London.

Though the practice of wine-making has ceased in England more than a century the remains and records of the old English vineyards are abundant and suggestive, says the Spectator. East Smithfield was converted into a vineyard and held by four successive constables of the tower in the reigns of Rufus, Henry and Stephen. In the reign of Richard II. the little park at Windsor was taken for a vineyard to supply the castle, and it was asserted of the vale of Gloucester that "there is no province in England that hath so many or such good vineyards as this country, either for fertility or sweetness of the grape; the wine thereof carrieth no unpleasant tartness, being not much inferior to the French in softness."

It is said that on the site of one of the old vineyards, in a park near Berkeley castle, tendrils of vines are still found springing up yearly among the grass. Some cuttings from these were planted and grew into good vines. Apparently most of the southern castles and abbeys had their home vineyard, just as they have in France, Italy, Germany and Hungary. The name still clings to the fields, though the vineyards are gone. In parts of Devonshire the name of the "vineyard" is given to land allotted to the poor under the enclosure act. Whatever the origin of this curious use of the words, the cultivation of the vineyards and the making of good wine were in some cases continued to such a recent date that the land which still bears the name may be said to have only temporarily passed out of cultivation.

The terraced vineyard of Beaulieu abbey was used for wine-making till the middle of the last century by John, Duke of Montagu; and the "house of the wine press," built in the reign of Henry III., was kept in repair after other buildings had been allowed to ruin. At Arundel castle, where the steep hillside forms an ideal exposure for wine-growing, the manufacture did not cease until the second half of the eighteenth century, "excellent wine of the Burgundy type" having continued to be made there in the ancient vineyard. The last place in which good wine was commonly made from vineyard grapes on a large scale was, strange to say, in what is now West London. The wonderfully fertile soil which now grows fruit and vegetables for Covent Garden then grew grapes. At Battersea, Fulham, Putney, Mortlake, Kew and Brentford, as well as at Battersea, Chelsea, Fulham and Putney, there were large vineyards. Pale Burgundy, Claret, Hock and Rhenish were made in London, and were sold at from 2s. to 4s. a bottle. The last vineyard in London was that of Sir Walter Raleigh, in Sir Walter Raleigh's walk, Kensington gardens. The last of the London vineyards disappeared about the beginning of the present century.

CLOSED WITH A BANQUET

Odd Fellows Renounce Secret Work and Discuss the Viands of the Driard.

Gathering at the Festal Board Was a Happy One—The Day Will be Remembered.

The session of the Grand Lodge, I. O. O. F., is over and the delegates from Island and Mainland have returned home. The closing event was the grand banquet at the Driard Hotel last night. There were over 150 at the table, the menu and wines were excellent and heartiest goodfellowship prevailed. The visiting representatives expressed their pleasure in many ways at the manner in which they had been and were being entertained by the local members of the craft. The banquet, excellently arranged as it was, was a fitting close for the very successful meeting of the Grand Lodge. The early part of the evening was taken up with the installation of officers. Retiring Grand Master Gray installed Grand Master Holmes, and the latter, assisted by Past Grand Master Waller, installed the remainder of the grand officers. The secret work was exemplified and other business disposed of, and it was nearly 11 o'clock when the guests reached the Driard. The supper had been in readiness for two hours and how it was kept just so is one of the secrets of the chef.

Grand Master Holmes presided as chairman and toastmaster, and around him sat Grand Representatives Henry Waller, R. Roberts, J. E. Phillips of Victoria, and A. W. Scoullar, Grand Treasurer Gilmour, Grand Chaplain Leland, Grand Warden Leland, and Grand Secretary Davey. The presiding officer called upon the Grand Chaplain for grace, and at the conclusion of the prayer supper was served. The menu was the best produced by the house as the following shows:

POTAGES.
Consommé Printanier,
Potage a la Reine.
SALADE.

POISSON.
Saumon a la Chainbord.

Cafe.

Haynes' orchestra was engaged for the evening, and during the banquet played a series of attractive numbers. It was nearly 12:30 o'clock before the cigars were reached and Grand Master Holmes proposed the health of Her Majesty. It was heartily responded to by the company singing the national anthem, and then J. E. Phillips, past grand master, of New Westminster, proposed "The President of the United States." Representative John Macmillan was very happy in his reply, and after some good-humored anecdotes said that the example onered by the people of America was appreciated and that the line of presidents showed that the ability to rule did not come by inheritance. The United States was to be thanked for the glorious order which stood as a bond for peace between us in any international trouble.

Mr. Phillips also proposed the Sovereign Grand Lodge and there were several responses. Henry Waller argued for conservatism in that body, as represented by the staid old fathers of the order, against the radicalism as represented by the younger element which was urging changes. He paid a high tribute to the character of the men who make up the Sovereign Grand Lodge. Mr. Roberts followed in a similar strain and Mr. Phillips of Victoria thanked the lodge for the honor of making him a Sovereign Grand Lodge representative and pledged himself to do his duty. A. W. Scoullar, the retiring representative, told some amusing stories after arguing for the younger element in the grand lodge.

Brother James Pilling sang a comic song and was heartily encored. The second was equally amusing and convulsed the crowd. He refused the second encore.

A. McKenzie proposed "The Grand Lodge," of which honor he said he was proud. He complimented the lodges on its make-up as a body of men, and praised Secretary Davey and Mr. Waller for their work. Mr. Holmes replied and thanked the lodge for elevation to the post of grand master. He said he hoped they would all have as good an opinion of him a year hence. He said he would try and keep up his reputation as a worker and that he would visit the lodges and work for the order. After a song by Grand Warden Norton of Nanaimo, Secretary Davey also responded. He was proud of the Odd Fellows, who made up the foremost secret order in British Columbia. He also referred to the flattering state of the order. Grand Treasurer Gilmour also answered and as well proposed the Grand Encampment. Grand Representative Rivers of that body in reply said he must thank the Victoria members for the way the visitors had been treated, and bespoke a greater interest on the part of members for the encampment. W. H. Huxtable also responded and pleased the company.

Past Grand George Glover asked all to drink to the health of the retiring grand officers, who he said had done their work exceedingly well. Past Grand Master Thomas Gray made a fitting reply, and Grand Secretary Frederick Davey proposed the subordinate lodges, which he described as "the rank and file and bone and sinew" of the order. In answer John Macmillan spoke of the higher aims of the order, which tended to break down the hatred of men and was a God-given agency of peace. It was not a religion but it did a religious work. The subordinate lodge was not political, but it taught true democracy and self government. He closed by strongly advising the members to always keep in view the motto of the order.

Representative P. W. Dempster proposed the Rebekahs and J. W. Meldram responded, both making good talks. Jas. Pilling sang "Killarney" very feelingly, and for an encore, "We Must Bide a'Wee."

Mr. Scoullar, in an enthusiastic speech, proposed the health, happiness and long life of the Victoria Odd Fellows, and the visitors rising quickly gave their hosts three rousing cheers.

The health of Captain Rudlin, Captain Irving and the C. P. N. Company for favors granted and for holding the boat this morning until 3:30, was proposed by Mr. Henderson. Captain Rudlin, who was present, thanked the assemblage. He promised to safely deliver the Mainland members at Vancouver, and the joke was appreciated.

Representative J. Pottinger, in a humorous speech, asked for the drinking of the health of the Press. The response was hearty and there were brief replies from Messrs. McRae and Egan. The company joined in singing "Auld Lang Syne" and "God Save the Queen," and the banquet was over. There were congratulations and farewells all around and the Mainlanders were escorted to the boat at 3:30 by a big local delegation.

A. O. F. GRAND RE-UNION

The City Thronged With Visiting Brethren and Friends from Near-by Cities.

Grand Street Parade an Imposing Spectacle—A Great Crowd at the Park.

The Foresters were fortunate in having good weather for their celebration, which was as successful an affair as was anticipated. The number who came from outside cities was up to expectations. The first contingent of visiting brethren arrived last evening on the Charmer from Vancouver and New Westminster. A special train brought 500 members of the A. O. F. and their friends down from Nanaimo and Wellington, arriving at 11 a.m. The Wellington brass band accompanied the excursionists from the Coal City. The general committee met at Foresters' Hall at 10 o'clock and completed final arrangements.

Promptly at 1:30 p.m. the procession formed at the market hall, where a large number of spectators had assembled. Crowds thronged the line of march, which was as follows:

Market Hall to Douglas street, along Douglas to Fort, down Fort to Wharf, halt at Kingston wharf to meet visiting members from the State of Washington; Wharf to Yates, Yates to Government, Government to Belleville, Belleville to Menzies, Menzies to Simcoe, and Simcoe to the grounds.

The parade was a most imposing spectacle, the picturesque costumes worn by members of the order being much admired. Sam Sea, jr., as marshal, astride of a milk-white charger, rode most gracefully, and was followed by the band of the B. C. B. G. A. Next in line came the members of Court Robin Hood, immediately followed by Court Hon. Robert Dunsmuir, Court Nanaimo, Foresters' Home and Court Nanaimo Juvenile Foresters. The Wellington brass band was stationed at this section of the parade and was followed by the bluejackets from the royal navy who are members of the A. O. F. The most prominent feature of the celebration—the float—followed the bluejackets and called forth many complimentary remarks from the admiring throng of spectators. It was drawn by four horses and made a most pleasing picture. Seated beneath a canopy of flowers were a number of Juvenile Foresters attired in the pretty picturesque costume of the order—buff-colored leathern boots, velvet coats, trimmed with white fur, wide-brimmed hats, and a hunter's horn suspended from the shoulders. At their feet reclined a handsome foxhound, who seemed to enjoy the proceedings immensely. Lady Companions of the Forest were seated on the sides beneath the canopy and with their sashes of green ribbons and wands surmounted by a bow of the same, enhanced the beauty of the pleasing sight. District officers and lady Companions followed in carriages, while two grotesquely attired clowns on mourful little donkeys were here, there and everywhere.

General regret was expressed that the visiting members from the State of Washington had not arrived in time to take places in the parade at the starting hour. However, the Kingston arrived at a little after two and the 150 excursionists who came over on her were heartily welcomed at the wharf by the waiting procession, which afterwards proceeded to the Caledonian grounds.

THE SPORTS.

Caledonia Park was thronged at an early hour with an expectant audience, who eagerly awaited the arrival of the procession and the commencement of the afternoon's sports. A choice programme of most interesting races had been arranged and the events were keenly contested, as very liberal prizes had been offered. Little if any delay occurred in starting the various races and the spectators were loud in their praise of the management which so ably attended to the day's arrangements. For the tombola several handsome prizes were presented by G. H. Hammond & Co., Seattle; Weiler Bros., Victoria; E. J. Salmon, F. Carne, jr., C. N. Cameron, H. Waller, Speed Bros., P. R. Smith, J. Parker, A. Holmes, J. Collister, M. R. Smith and J. Wrigleswortb.

This evening the spacious pavilion will be thronged by a merry crowd of dancers and other amusements will be provided to make a fit ending to the annual re-union of 1895.

THE OAR.

FRESHMEN'S RACE.

Ithaca, N. Y., June 14.—The first annual race between the freshmen eights of Cornell university and the University of Pennsylvania was rowed this afternoon on Cayuga lake over the two mile course and Cornell won by nine lengths in 11 minutes 18 3-5 seconds. Pennsylvania time was just 52 seconds slower.

YACHTING.

BRITISH OPINION.

London, June 15.—The Field thinks that Britishers have more cause for self-gratulation over the fact that the Defender is a keel boat, because this indicates that Americans are converted to our views. Should, however, the Valkyrie be victorious, the unhappy Americans will ask Mr. Nat. Herreschoff why on earth he did not build a centreboarder. "It appears" says the Field, "that the Defender's hull is much lighter than the Valkyrie's and much lighter than could have been ventured upon had she been required to cross the Atlantic. This advantage is inevitable and the Americans are justified in availing themselves of it to the fullest extent."

At 3 o'clock the Ailsa had a lead of 13 minutes on the Britannia. Off Ryde the Inyono was leading the 20-raters; the Niagara was last and away behind.

STILL IN THE CHANNEL.

Southampton, June 15.—In beautiful weather for yacht racing the Ailsa and Britannia started at 10:30 this morning in a race under the auspices of the Royal Southern Yacht Club. The course was 45 miles long, twice around the Sturbinge and Bramble buoys. The Niagara, Audrey, Inyono and Stephanie started at 11 o'clock in a race for 20-raters under the auspices of the same club. The course for the small craft was the same as yesterday, 32 miles from Calshot Castle and twice around the spit light.

The Ailsa had the best of the start in the race for the large yachts and passed the mark 20 seconds ahead of the Britannia. The latter had bad luck off Calshot spit, touched the sand bar and remained around it several minutes. The 20-raters got well away together with the exception of the Audrey. The Niagara passed the spit one minute ahead, but the Audrey and Inyono soon overhauled her. The wind was very light.

The following were the times of the yachts in the 20-raters class at the finish: Niagara, 5:05 4-5; Inyoni, 5:06.41; Audrey, 5:07.01; Stephanie, 5:08.20; Luna, 5:13.03. The Niagara, the winner, was last and away behind her competitors when the yachts were off Ryde. In the race for the big yachts the Britannia won on time allowance by 8 seconds.

CHESS.

VANCOUVER LOSES.

Vancouver lost both of last evening's chess games to the Mechanics' Institute of San Francisco. The players were: San Francisco, board 1—Messrs. Kendricks, Dunn, Franklin and Dr. Marshall; board 2—Dr. Lovegrove and Messrs. Howe, Quiroga and Samuels. Vancouver, board No. 1—Messrs. Hoffer, Crickmay, Hooper, and Dr. Bell-Irving; board No. 2—Messrs. Keith, M. Smith, Proctor, and Grant. On board No. 1 Vancouver resigned after the thirty-first move and on the second board after the thirty-seventh move.

THE WHEEL.

Denver, Colo., June 15.—The Denver Wheel Club has received a telegram from A. A. Zimmerman, saying he and John S. Johnson will race in Denver in the latter part of July.

THE TURF.

NEW YORK SUBURBAN.

Sheepshead Bay, N. Y., June 15.—A better day for the Suburban could not have been desired. When the sun rose this morning the air was clear and a strong westerly breeze blew across the track, making it cool and pleasant. Later in the day the rays of the sunbeams made themselves felt and it promised to be very warm, although it is rarely uncomfortable. The grounds were in perfect condition, the lawns were never greener, while the track itself was in magnificent condition. The extensive flower beds looked deliciously cool and brilliant in their gorgeous coloring. The starters and jockeys for the Surburban were as follows: Sir Walter, 126 pounds (Doggett); Domino, 123 pounds (Taral); Lazarone, 115 pounds (Murphy); Rubicon, 119 pounds (Midgely); Sister Mary, 114 pounds (Hamilton); Declare, 108 pounds (Reiff); Song and Dance, 99 pounds (Griffin).

Never before in the history of the Suburban, has there been such a heavy favorite as Domino. Not one in the dozen stables was willing to admit even the possibility of his defeat. A few said Domino was not bred to go the distance and he would find he had undertaken too much to carry 123 pounds and run a mile and a quarter against such known stayers as Sir Walter and Lazarone. It was conceded on all sides that the only possibility of defeating the black colt lay in the hot pace all the way and weakening on the part of the Keene horse when the last furlong came, but no one was to see where the weakening was to come from. It was not expected that Taral would take Domino out at the start as he had done in the mile races, and Sister Mary was the only possibility thought of in that respect. Song and Dance is a lightweight, but he is a racer and the others are of the same kind with the exception of Rubicon, who likes short races. A slow race with a sprint of a half mile or so, it was argued, made victory a sure thing for Domino, barring accidents, the only horses of the lot likely to be with him at the end in such a race being Rubicon and Sir Walter.

Few book-makers would lay odds against Domino. The grounds were filled to overflowing. Betting at the start: Domino, 1 to 2; Sir Walter, 4 to 1; Lazarone, 8 to 1; Rubicon, Sister Mary, Declare and Song and Dance, 10 to 1. Few, however, cared for anything but Domino.

Lazarone won the Suburban by a length.

LACROSSE.

SHAMROCKS AND CAPITALS.

Ottawa, June 15.—The following is the result of the Shamrock-Capital game: First game, Capitals, 3 minutes; second, Capitals, 10½ minutes; third, Capitals, 6 minutes; fourth, Shamrocks, 1 minute; fifth, Shamrocks, 1 minute; sixth, Shamrocks, ½ minute; seventh, Capitals, 15 minutes; eighth, Capitals, 6 minutes; ninth, Capitals, 3½ minutes; tenth, Capitals, 2 minutes; eleventh, Shamrocks, 10 minutes. Score—Capitals, 7; Shamrocks, 4.

CORNWALL VS. TORONTO.

Cornwall, June 15.—First game, Cornwall, 16 minutes; second, Cornwall, 11 minutes and 45 seconds; third, Toronto, 4 minutes and 47 seconds; fourth, Cornwall, 5 minutes and 13 seconds; fifth, Cornwall, 2 minutes; sixth, Toronto, 1 minute; seventh, Cornwall, 5 minutes and 40 seconds. Score—Cornwall, 5; Toronto, 2.

ATHLETICS.

CALIFORNIANS IN CHICAGO.

Chicago, June 15.—The brilliant eastern tour of the University of California track team was closed to-day with a series of contests with the Chicago Athletic Association, on the latter's south side grounds. The numerous triumphs of the men from the coast had assured an interesting meet and the athletic association field on 35th street was crowded when time was called.

AYER'S Hair VIGOR

Restores natural color to the hair, and also prevents it falling out. Mrs. H. W. Fenwick, of Digby, N. S., says:

"A little more than two years ago my hair began to turn gray and fall out. After the use of one bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor my hair was restored to its original color and ceased falling out. An occasional application has since kept the hair in good condition."—Mrs. H. F. Fenwick, Digby, N. S.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for three years, and it has restored hair, which was fast becoming gray, back to its natural color."—H. W. Haselhoff, Paterson, N. J.

HAIL THROUGH THE ROOF.

The Inmates Saved Their Lives by Getting Under the Beds.

One of the worst hail storms this section has experienced in many years passed through a portion of San Patricio and Neuces counties last Wednesday night about nine o'clock, says a recent issue of the Corpus Christi Caller. The hail, which was followed by heavy rain, lasted only for a few minutes, and while it covered a good piece of territory, the destructive part of it was only about two miles wide, commencing in San Patricio county about Meansville and passing south across Nueces Bay into this county, taking in on its march the farms of J. H. Roark, John Dunn and others in that neighborhood west of this city. Mr. Roark, who was in town last evening, says the hail stones came down straight through the roof of his house, broke thirty glass globes and destroyed a good portion of his crop.

The worst report of all comes from Meansville, about 17 miles from this city at the head of Neuces Bay, where hail stones fell as large as goose eggs and completely ruined the farms of C. L. Moore, R. A. Anthony and A. Wilkinson. Mr. Moore, who arrived in Corpus Christi last night, gives a very sorry account of the terrible storm which completely ruined him. He says he is left without a dollar. Last Wednesday he had between 90 and 100 acres of cotton, 30 acres in corn, 10 acres in beans, besides several acres in melons and other products, all growing nicely. He had a good home and felt easy.

That night the hail came and swept all his crop away except two acres of potatoes and a half acre of ribbon corn. the hail stones came down through the roof of the house, making holes large enough to throw a cat through them.

His wife and children had to take refuge under the bed. His mother, aged 98 years, saved her life by getting under the bed also. The family were nearly frightened to death, and his wife is laid up in bed from the effects of her experience, though his mother stood it well. The large hail stones, which were of all shapes, tore the roof off the kitchen and dining room, broke all his dishes and killed his chickens and turkeys, which, if they could have been spared to him, would have helped him to make a living.

Mr. Moore says that after the storm was over the hail could be seen banking up in the yard like snow. When he left home yesterday at 11 o'clock a mass of hail was seen at one corner of his house as large as a bucket. His animals suffered the least; the storm blew his fences and pig-pens down, and his stock ran among the timber and escaped with little injury.
